Counseling Screening

Sometimes it is difficult to know if what we are feeling is a "normal" reaction to daily stressors or a more serious state of anxiety or depression. Take a few minutes to take care of yourself and come by the Moreau Center on Tuesday, October 6th. The Counseling and Training Center will be providing free depression, stress, and anxiety (including test anxiety) screenings for students, faculty, and staff from 11:00 AM to 5:00 PM. Each screening will take about 10-15 minutes; you will be given results immediately. If you decide you want to "address your stress," counseling (free to faculty, staff, and students of OLHCC) is available.
